OKINAWA BATTLE ENTERS THIRD MONTH

GUAM, June 1.—More than 1,000 Japs were ensnared in a trap of certain death today as the battle for Okinawa—bloodiest of the entire Pacific war—entered its third month.

U. S. Tenth Army forces snapped the trap on a force of Japs in embattled Shuri, as other elements of Lieut. Gen. Simon Bolivar Buckner's command turned to the task of eliminating tattered remnants of the enemy garrison scattered over the southern reaches of the island.

Resistance Backbone Broken

In the wake of one of the most triumphant disclosures made by Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz since outset of the two-months-old battle, informed observers as well as frontline reports indicated that the backbone of Japanese resistance has been broken.

First Marine Division troops, led by Maj. Gen. Pedro Augusto Del Valle, hammered through the war-shattered streets of Shuri to join elements of the 96th Infantry cutting in from the northeast flank of

U. S. Ready To Aid Settlement Of Syria Dispute

By LEON PEARSON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, June 1.—The United States government indicated its readiness today to join with Great Britain in arranging a three-power meeting for settlement of basic issues in the dispute between France and the states of Syria and Lebanon.

France, the third power in the proposed conference, is yet to be heard from.

But news of a hastily called meeting of the French cabinet following a "cease fire" order in Syria indicates that Gen. Charles De Gaulle is giving full consideration to the Anglo-American proposal.

Separate Move

American support for the London conference came as a separate move after American approval had been given the ultimatum of British armed intervention in Syria. Churchill's announcement of the tri-partite conference caught Washington

New Program On Canning Sugar

O. P. A. Announces New Four-Point Program To Halt A Home "Sugar
Racket"

WASHINGTON, June 1.—(INS)—OPA put into effect today a four-point program designed to end a home "sugar racket" by consumers who obtain canned sugar for table use.

Henceforth consumers who apply for canned sugar must pledge not to use it for any other purpose, they must agree to report how many quarts of food they put up and the amount of sugar actually used and to return ration stamps for their canned allotments if they do not use them to preserve food.

The other three points of the program provide:

1. OPA local boards will not issue canned sugar in areas where fruit and vegetable crops are not now available but will wait until these crops come in. This applies principally to northern states.
2. Local boards will also stop issuing canned sugar in many other areas "to obtain a breathing spell" during which they can process more carefully the applications on file.
3. OPA investigators will start a vigorous campaign to end diversions of home canned sugar into bootleg liquor making and other "illicit" bottling.

Last summer OPA Chief Chester Bowles said, "many who had no intention of using sugar for canning made application for home canned sugar and used the sugar for other purposes. In doing that, they literally robbed our country of a substantial part of our limited sugar supply."

The president told how the nation expects to meet these problems.

He revealed also that the Navy had to repel a German last gasp "submarine blitz" attempt directed at the Atlantic coast in the last days of the European war.

The chief executive called upon people to stay at home abstaining from unnecessary travel because of Dedication of the imposing new honor roll which has been erected at the park in Croton across from the Croton Avenue school will take place on Sunday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock, it is announced by general chairman Tom Malizia.

The new honor roll, which supplants the one erected several years ago, is a substantial one and has been built in the park at the intersection of Croton, Eastbrook St. and Castle St. It is one of the finest in the district. The first honor roll, which was one of the first to be dedicated in the New Castle community, was later found to be too small, and a new one became necessary.

About six months ago, the committee in charge began a campaign to erect a new one, which is now completed.

W. A. Hoffmaster, principal of the Croton school, will be master of ceremonies and Judge W. Walter Braham will be the principal speaker. There will also be a disabled man from Deshon Annex representing the men in service. The invocation will be given by Rev. Owen Shields, pastor of the Croton Avenue Methodist church, and Rev. Fr. Albert Inteso, of the Croton Mission of St. Vitus church will bless the flag and pronounce the benediction. Music will be furnished by the Croton school band, and the 16th Infantry band, Pennsylvania State Guard.

In addition to President Tom Malizia, members of the general committee include Harry Wright, secretary, and Robert Sheehy, treasurer.

Blair county coroner Daniel M. Replego disclosed that Amheiser died from "extensive intra-cranial hemorrhages, subarachnoid fractured skull and concussions of the brain."

"When sugar rations are again issued for home canning each applicant will be required to pledge to use sugar only for home canning."

President Says Biggest Army Will Face Japs

Discloses Plan For Fight To
"Complete Finish" Of War Against Japan

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, June 1.—President Truman sent a special message to Congress today on the war against Japan and disclosed that the American army in the Pacific will be larger than the forces in Europe at their peak.

The top strength of the American fighting men in Europe was approximately 3,500,000.

Mr. Truman's special message emphasized the tremendous problems facing the nation in the war to crush Japan.

British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden informed the House of Commons that the French had ordered their forces in Syria not to oppose orders of the British commander-in-chief in the middle east, Maj. Gen. Sir Bernard Paget, who had been directed to intervene to restore tranquility.

To Supervise Move

A dispatch from Cairo reported that high ranking forces of Gen. Charles De Gaulle in which he asked the French leader to order French troops to "withdraw to their barracks" to "avoid a collision."

Confidence Relates (especially) those relating to the Syrian-Lebanon incident, awaited developments on the Anglo-American intervention in the Levant at the 49-nation meeting ground through its sixth week.

The Big Five, which yesterday postponed a session to speed up the conference agenda, also awaited word from Russia on the controversial veto issue.

Fight To Finish

The chief executive reaffirmed the determination to fight the Japanese war to a "complete finish."

He called upon the nation's workers in ship repair yards to redouble their efforts to cope with damage caused by the Japanese suicide attacks on Pacific fleet units.

The president summarized the entire achievements of the Army, Navy and Air forces in the war to date and sketched the grave problems, difficulties and dangers ahead in the war with Japan.

The president told how the nation expects to meet these problems.

He revealed also that the Navy had to repel a German last gasp "submarine blitz" attempt directed at the Atlantic coast in the last days of the European war.

Explosion Occurs At Refrigeration
Plant Of Colonial Biscuit
Company

PITTSBURGH, June 1.—(INS)—Pittsburgh firemen today were attempting to determine damage caused by the explosion at the Colonial Biscuit company's refrigerating plant in Steel City which caused the death of one man and routed 250 other employees of the company.

Mercy hospital attaches reported that George Bendig, 43, of Pittsburgh, died from burns suffered in the blast. Bendig, an engineer, was working on the newly installed refrigerating equipment when the blast occurred, a company spokesman stated.

The explosion, heard blocks away, shook the six-story building and rattled out wall-paneling on the first floor. A "flash-fire," which broke out in the basement after the blast, automatically turned on the sprinkling system causing the building to be flooded and ruining quantities of flour stored there.

PLAN CONFERENCE TO SOLVE DISPUTE (BULLETIN)

PARIS, June 1.—(INS)—The French government announced officially today that it had ordered its troops in Syria to cease fire but to maintain their positions.

Applications For Canning Sugar Are Still Being Accepted

No Coupons Will Be Issued, However, Until Present Restriction Is Lifted

No board has as yet been set up to approve applications from local canners for canning sugar, and therefore the OPA order to temporarily discontinue issuing canning sugar coupons does not affect New Castle, explained J. Lee McFate, chief clerk of the War Price and Rationing Board.

Applications may still be filed with the local office and will be considered as soon as the present restriction is lifted. Applicants should write to the rationing office on Pearson street for the blanks.

The new restriction has been put in effect by the OPA in an attempt to check canning sugar "chiseler" who have been obtaining the sugar for other purposes.

Industrial supervisors and executives of Western Pennsylvania will meet in Pittsburgh Saturday, June 9, for the fifteenth annual conference of the group. The conference is under the auspices of the industrial department of the State Young Men's Christian Association of Pennsylvania.

Local men listed in the official personnel of the organization include William E. Leslie of the United Engineering and Foundry company who is the chairman of the conference, report committee, and Robert L. Meermans of the YMCA a member of the publicity committee. The chairman of the publicity committee is H. T. MacNicholas, formerly of New Castle now of Wilmerding.

Among the speakers listed for the conference are Charles E. Wilson, president of General Motors; Scott W. Rudy, chairman of Westinghouse Air Brake; Dr. C. Cady Baldwin, dean of Wharton School of Finance, and Carl A. Yost, chairman of the American Rolling Mills company.

The planes at the port include a Helcat, a Wildcat, a Corsair, a Hellcat and an Avenger. On them are dummy bombs and rockets, and every hour one of the officers will explain the features of his plane and answer questions. It's a show you shouldn't miss and all it takes to see it is a bond bought at the airport or in any motion picture house. In addition the bond will be good for the motion picture premiere which will be held here on June 14.

Little more than 20,000 Japs—many of them probably service troops—were estimated to be the remainder of the original garrison of Okinawa, when the Americans swarmed ashore Easter morning to tear open the back door to Japan. Okinawa is situated only 325 miles southwest of Japan's southern island at Kyushu.

OVER 1,000 JAPS ENSNARED IN TRAP OF CERTAIN DEATH

the city. The junction choked off besieged enemy troops still resisting from caves and tunnels and pillboxes.

At the same time, the shattered enemy defense still holding out in the Shuri area was under relentless frontal attack by the 77th Division, which also joined with First Division leathernecks to pocket some of the Japs in northern parts of the city.

Trap Closed On Shuri

Meanwhile Sixth Division Marines drove around the inner shores of Naha Bay across which lies the sprawling Naha airfield, and the army's Seventh Division expanded its hold along the island's east coast.

International News Service War Correspondent George McWilliams, at Buckner's headquarters, reported that the trap isolating Shuri had been closed.

McWilliams quoted field officers estimating more than 1,000 Japs were pocketed and unless they cease their fanatical last-ditch resistance doomed.

Buckner's Tenth Army at the same time turned southward where staff officers believed not more than 20,000 Japs were left in scattered strongpoints.

Eliminate 62,827 Japs

Nimitz reported that 62,827 of the original estimated enemy strength of 80,000 to 85,000 troops had been eliminated in battle. This figure represented the average daily death of 1,000 Japanese fighting men.

Since May 17 along the enemy lines have been estimated at 13,500—most of the blood being let in the ferocious, stubborn resistance in the vicinity of Shuri.

Latest United States death toll including sea as well as land forces was under 10,000. Japanese losses thus have been at least six-to-one over the Americans.

Nimitz's communiqué following one of the swiftest drives in more than a month of bitter fighting on Okinawa reported gains of up to 1,200 yards and flatly stated that Shuri, the mainspring of the enemy's defense had been "outflanked and is being pinched off."

The Jap dead from the April 1 invasion through May 30 at 61,519, in the same time 1,353 Nip soldiers were taken prisoner.

So recently back that he hasn't been paid in two years and hasn't yet caught up with a place he can get the ribbons to which he is entitled.

Or Lt. Ted Schroeder of California, Lt. Sam Parsons of Montana, Lt. Dale Orcutt or Lt. J. P. Cartledge, the "Mississippi Mud Cat." All of them have ribbons and decorations galore, five of them have 18 major engagements back of them, 7 of them have thirty ribbons.

And Lt. Conrad

Not to forget Lt. Arthur Conrad the Public Relations Officer of the group. Lt. Conrad was President Roosevelt's courier at the Yalta conference, flew the Atlantic a number of times carrying state papers to North Africa, to Yalta, to Malta, to Cairo to Naples and to London. As to his own other experiences, he isn't talking.

In addition the bond will be good for the motion picture premiere which will be held here on June 14.

But to us the interesting part of the bond show isn't the planes nor what they can do it's the flies and what they have done. How old

Mrs. Roger Whiteford, who is active in Montgomery county goings-on; collected it from Mrs. King and passed it on to Mrs. L. W. Landick, wife of the deputy rent commissioner.

Next, the hominy paused a while, carefully canned and wrapped at the White House office of Stephen Early. Then made a hop, skip and jump to the War department and to the supreme headquarters of the Allied Expeditionary Force.

We Must Feed

British officer quite calmly: "You Americans aren't nearly out of the woods on this rationing business. Nor will you get back to normal when the war is over... Why? Well, you see, my dear, it is going to be your job to feed the rest of the world for quite a while. You're the only people who really have anything."

What will England be doing?... On, England will be re-establishing her finances. Looking after her trade. That sort of thing. We won't have the time nor the resources to do what you will quite properly realize as your duty... You're a fine generous nation!"

Indeed we are a fine, generous nation, say I.

A guest at the superb party which Mrs. George Meesta gave the irrepressible Trumans stood at a gentle distance from Mrs. Woodrow Wilson and surveyed the handsome widow of the World War I president. "This is a thrilling evening to me," said the guest. "I lived through World War I. Pretty close to it, in fact. I was proud of the part Woodrow Wilson played."

I still am proud to bear his name. I am a newcomer to Washington. Most of these people you are so accustomed to are strange to me. I don't know how you felt about Wilson. But believe me I get a great kick out of seeing Mrs. Wilson. There she is. Look at her. A bit of history, sitting on a sofa!"

ERIE—Even the Japs have outfit girls. Paul Harold Steiner of Erie wrote his parents that in a "modestly equipped" room on Okinawa he found pin-up pictures of Nipponese "babes" on the walls.

He certainly is in a position now to get no end of a "kick" out of being President of these United States.

New Secretary Of Agriculture Calls
For Action Now To Curb
Scarcities

By EDWIN D. SIAS
T. N. S. Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 1.—Rep. Clinton Presba Anderson, President Truman's choice for secretary of agriculture, said today he anticipates some "good postwar years" for America's farmers.

Forecasting a high level of employment after the war, the incoming chief of the country's food program predicted that the demand for farm products will be kept at a high level. Farmers, he said, will be kept busy.

Critical Policies

The New Mexico Democrat, who is head of the house special committee investigating food shortages, turned in a rather critical report on current government food policies, also said in an interview.

He plans to maintain an "open door" policy as secretary of agriculture with congress, the public and newsmen.

He wishes and will make it a point to meet "everybody in the department that I can—from the highest up to the farthest down."

When he takes over as secretary on July 1 he will do so "with my gun drawn."

Down to discuss agricultural policy until after his confirmation by the senate, Anderson pointed, however, to his committee food reports as "the best guides to what I think."

Using the report on food shortages as a base, Anderson favors coordination of the entire food program—coordination of production, distribution, rationing and pricing of food."

It is assumed that as head of the agriculture department and War Food Administration, Anderson will move promptly to correct inequalities in food handling.

"There must be action now," his report said. "Time is working on the side of scarcity, and if time is wasted and coordination not as needed, black markets will have cracked price control irreparably."

A tall, handsome, affable man, Anderson came to the house as an insurance agent, farmer, townie and former ex-government employee and former newspaper reporter.

Guerillas Become G.I.'s; MacArthur Enlists Them All

Wise Handling Prevents Filipinos From Becoming
Problem In Islands

By CAPTAIN JOHN H. CRAIGE
(Written Especially for U.S. S.)

According to reports by officers returning from the Pacific theatre, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's far-sighted and intelligent handling of the Philippine guerillas has eliminated what might have developed into a threatening problem.

When the Americans came back to the Philippines there were great numbers of guerillas in the field, variously estimated at from 50,000 to 250,000.

Hundreds Of Groups

These belonged to hundreds of separate groups and armies and to half a dozen different classifications. A few were Filipino and American soldiers who had been members of regular U. S. forces.

Thousands of others had belonged to the Philippine army in which they had received varying amounts of training. Even larger numbers had received no training at all but had simply taken to the bush to offer their resistance they could to Japanese invaders of their homeland.

All of them were extremely useful to American forces and inflicted tremendous amounts of annoyance and damage on the Japs. Besides ambushing weak convoys, burning supplies and bushwhacking individuals, the Philippine guerillas furnished MacArthur with complete and perfect information.

Hard To Settle Down

The danger lay in the fact that they had been fighting guerilla war for approximately three years. During that time they had lived a wild free life, getting supplies, food and often money by raids on the enemy.

Men who had lived lives of this kind so often find it difficult to settle down.

MacArthur solved the problems of getting rid of all the guerillas as soldiers.

Enlist Rifles Too

Each guerilla enlisting was obliged to bring his rifle with him, which then became the property of the company or regiment to which he was attached. This measure alone brought under government control thousands of rifles which had been distributed for use against the Japanese. Guerillas signing up as soldiers became eligible immediately for military pay and rations, which represent wealth to the average Filipino.

By way of keeping them busy, the newly enlisted guerillas were systematically assigned to cooperate with American units in the field against the Japanese.

They have proved invaluable not only as scouts and guides but as labor battalions and transports in difficult mountain regions where supplies have to be brought in by hand.

Presbyterians To Launch Campaign

Home For Aged Building Fund
Campaign Will Open June 3
In Eight Presbyteries

PITTSBURGH, June 1—In all 499 Presbyterian churches of western Pennsylvania on Sunday, June 3, a campaign for the erection of a new and modern Presbyterian Home for the Aged will be launched.

The eight Presbyteries of Beaver, Blawnox, Butler, Kittanning, Pittsburgh, Renfrew, Shannong and Washington will co-operate in a building fund program to raise $300,000 for the construction, equipping and furnishing of the home, which a 14-acre site has been secured on Hulton road in Oakmont adjoining the Oakmont Country Club. The home will be built following the end of the war, to accommodate 155 residents.

At a meeting of Shannong Presbyterians at the First Presbyterian church of New Castle on May 17, plans for the launching of the campaign were developed.

In the local Presbytery of Shenango the organization is under the chairmanship of Fred Furt of Sharon for major gifts, and of Mont L. Aley of New Castle for the congregational division.

The building fund campaign will open Sunday in all churches of the Presbyterians, with observance of "Old Folks' Day," and will close on the third Sunday of June.

Kenneth Seater, vice president of the Herbinson-Walker Refactories company and a member of the East Liberty Presbyterian church, is chairman of the campaign policy executive committee of eight members. There are local chairman in each of the eight presbyteries.

Proud Normandie Lies Unwanted In New Jersey Water

U. S. Navy, France, Both Reject Battered Hulk Of Former Luxury Liner

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, June 1.—The once proud mistress of the seas, the great French luxury liner "Normandie" may never sweep her wide sail wide across the oceans again.

Jilted by both France and the United States, the 56,000-ton liner today lies off Bayonne, N. J., waters which she would not have deigned to enter in the days when her sharp prow cut through onrushing seas while a peacetime world danced on her smooth decks. Then she docked on one of the longest piers on the Hudson river.

"Choice of Elite"

Useful in that great tourist luxury trade, for which the British, French and Germans then vied, the Normandie was the choice of the elite. Her wide salons were decorated with works of French modernists. In one of her false smokestacks a night club was set up. Her food, wines, liquors and service were in the finest French tradition. Hollywood's best strutted down her broad stairways.

The British "Queen Mary" and the German "Bremen" and "Europa" were considered second class by those who could find space on the Normandie.

Now neither the navy nor the French government wants her any more. For military purposes she is useless and the French would rather have her 60 million dollar cost than the battered hulk which once lay submerged in the Hudson for 17 months. For restoration she has probably the lowest priority of any type of shipping.

Her Wines Are Gone

Her paintings, her lifeboats, even the wines are gone. Some equipment has been sold, more was destroyed when, after catching fire early in 1942, she turned over at her New York pier. The wines, liquors and fine champagnes were brought into the U. S. by Vichy Ambassador Gaston Henri Haye to store in the wine cellars of the Gothic castle's embassy he acquired when he came to the United States to plead the case of Marshal Henri Philippe Petain.

The Normandie's fall paralleled the fall of France. When Petain took over French funds were frozen and French ships in American ports were seized. After Pearl Harbor the navy took the vessel over and undertook a job of converting her to a transport with a new name of Lafayette. She could have carried a division to Britain or France.

Ravaged By Fire

But, unluckily, a careless workman's touch set fire to her during conversion. After hours of fire-fighting she keeled over and settled in the muck of the river. Seventeen months and almost six million dollars were spent in righting her. Then the navy could find no use for the great liner.

Once righted she was towed to Brooklyn. The navy debated what was to be done with her. Her keel was bent, her sides sprung and at least two years work would have been required to use her in the Atlantic. Liberty and Victory ships of the same capacity could be built more quickly and were.

Recently she was towed to Bayonne. Her superstructure is gone and she lies idle. No work is being done on her and, if it were decided to restore her, probably a year would be needed. She is likely to remain there until France and the United States have reached an agreement on her future disposition. That will probably be the scrap pile and a financial settlement.

Stay Out Of Car Till Wife Learns To Drive

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., June 1.—(INS)—Don't undertake the job of teaching your wife to drive the family car after this war's over, unless warring is your favorite occupation, says Amos E. Neyhart of the Pennsylvania State College.

Neyhart, who heads the Penn State Institute of Public Safety and who is also driver training consultant for the American Automobile Association, feels learning to drive should be an impersonal business-like taking golf or piano lessons.

"Most men," the nationally-known expert said, "have less patience with their wives than they do with other women. When they're teaching a strange woman, they'll count ten before pointing out mistakes, but they won't count when the woman behind the wheel is the little woman."

Women, he explained, will respond more quickly to the instructions of an outsider—especially, he added, "if they have found fault with their husband's driving in the past." He also expressed the fear that differences of opinion will be magnified in the driver's seat and carried over into the home.

HARRISBURG—Since September 1940, the state's unemployment compensation fund has increased from $120,000,000 to more than $580,000,000, according to the department of labor and industry.

Dr. Jas. Ferguson Is U. P. Moderator

MONMOUTH, Ill., June 1.—(INS)

—Dr. James Ferguson, Bellevue, Pa., on Thursday was moderator of the United Presbyterian churches of North America.

Dr. Ferguson, since 1908 pastor of the United Presbyterian church in Bellevue, was elected at the opening session of the 87th annual general assembly of the churches.

The conference, attended by 200 delegates, will continue on the Monmouth college campus until Monday.

Ten Don'ts Are Issued In Advice By Babson

By ROGER W. BABSON
(Copyright, 1945, Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.)

BABSON PARK, Mass., June 1—

1. Don't let any possible reconversion stamp frighten you. In certain industries there must be some unemployment while watching over from war to peace.

2. Don't let the new low-coupon rate long-term bonds which are now being issued. Many rates will continue low for only a short time.

3. Don't let the new low-coupon rate long-term bonds which are now being issued. Many rates will continue low for only a short time.

4. Don't sell the general stock market. The Dow-Jones Industrial Averages will surely sell for more some time during the next 12 months than they do at the present time. This probably also applies to many utility stocks. I am especially bullish on the chain store stocks. I also like some of the convertible preferreds which should combine reasonable safety with speculative possibilities.

5. Don't hold second-grade railroad securities any longer; but now take your profits. This applies to most railroad stocks and certainly to railroad income bonds which are now selling at fantastic prices.

Railroad net earnings are headed for a severe post-war slump which will probably last many years.

6. Don't sell the general stock market. The Dow-Jones Industrial Averages will surely sell for more some time during the next 12 months than they do at the present time. This probably also applies to many utility stocks. I am especially bullish on the chain store stocks. I also like some of the convertible preferreds which should combine reasonable safety with speculative possibilities.

7. Don't hold second-grade railroad securities any longer; but now take your profits. This applies to most railroad stocks and certainly to railroad income bonds which are now selling at fantastic prices.

9. Don't neglect the churches after the war is over. We talk about "fox-hole religion" among the servicemen, but there are many more fox-holes here in the United States than there are abroad.

The churches will especially be entitled to your attendance and support after this global warfare has come to an end. See that you then repay the churches for what they are now doing for you and your families.

10. Don't forget that you are going to die some time. Not only take care in making your will, but keep it up to date through the proper use of codicils. Too many people sacrifice their lives by hard work and thrift to accumulate some money, but give almost no thought to how the money is to be used after they go. This means give more thought to the use of forming trusts for your heirs and others.

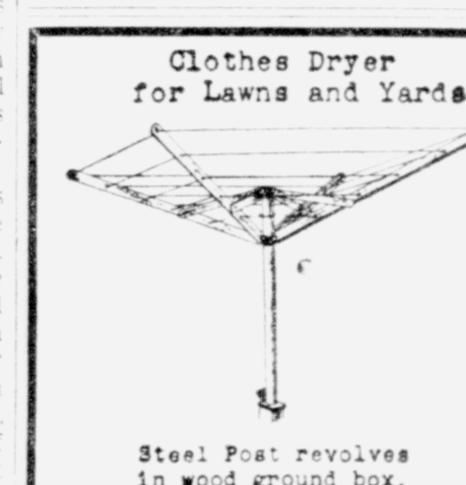

Your local banker will give you good suggestions free of charge concerning trusts.

Tax Evaders And Black Marketers Strongly Assailed

Sherry, Bolinger, Wilkins and Strong.

Mrs. Bolinger, an overseas nurse of World War I, was welcomed as a honorary member of the organization.

She spoke briefly, and in closing, made a donation to organization. She invited the group to meet at her home on North Mill street on June 26, their next regular date.

A tasty luncheon was served at a suitable hour.

Browne Thacker Guest Of Honor

Retiring Principal Of Washington Junior High Is Honored By Faculty Thursday

Eighty-two teachers and office personnel of George Washington Junior high school, and others from out of town who have been associated with Browne K. Thacker, retiring principal of the school, were present at a dinner in his honor in The Castleton hotel Thursday evening.

In recognition of Mr. Thacker's years of service in the New Castle school system, the guests presented him with an auto trailer, a gift which he has long been wanting. Dr. C. C. Green, former superintendent of New Castle schools, was toastmaster at the dinner. Mr. Leslie giving the invocation.

Speakers included Superintendent of Schools Frank L. Burton, Dwight Conner, principal of the Homestead Senior high and formerly principal of Mahoningtown high school; and Ray Shira, member of the local school board.

Mr. Thacker has been an educator since 1903 when he began teaching in his home town of Waukegan Ill. He came to New Castle in 1911 to become principal of North street school, and for a while also was in charge of Martin Gantz and East street schools. When Washington Junior high was built in 1928, Mr. Thacker was made principal, and many classes of youngsters have watched his program of beautifying the school and its grounds develop in the past few years.

Over 20,000 Pupils

Since coming to New Castle Mr. Thacker has supervised the work of 178 teachers and has worked under five different superintendents of schools. The number of youngsters who have been in his charge during those years is over 20,000.

The project's babies and understanding of the principle which followed the dinner. Divided into four parts, the program began with talk on first impressions of Mr. Thacker and events under his leadership and continued with discussions of his three projects—landscaping, painting, and music.

Miss Evelyn Spencer presented the trailer to the guest of honor on behalf of the Washington faculty and Mr. Thacker responded with an expression of his appreciation, and his aims as a teacher.
